

Center for Nonprofit Management

“Share to Succeed”

A Learning Circle for Nonprofit Financial Executives

Join this group of nonprofit CFO’s and executive financial staff for quarterly morning meetings designed to stimulate idea sharing leading to solutions for challenges facing nonprofit financial professionals.

Learning Circles provide a format for peers to discuss professional issues in an informal, self-directed group discussion. Many of these discussions are supported with continuing online conversations. This shared learning approach serves as a professional development conversation and facilitates the exchange of new information, best practice knowledge and fosters solutions related to the topic.

The facilitator for these discussions is Robert Seestadt, CPA, President, Detroit Science Center Design & Exhibits, Inc. rseestadt@sciencedetroit.org

The host for these groups is Jerry Lindman, JD, Director Center for Nonprofit Management at Lawrence Technological University nonprofitcenter@ltu.edu or 248.204.3095.

Senior financial executives are invited to participate. Please register by emailing nonprofitcenter@ltu.edu or calling 248.204.3095.